
Mia's Gentle Greeting

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

The moment my key turned in the lock, I knew you'd be there,
With tiny paws dancing and not a single care.
A Boston's bright spirit, a loyal, true friend,
Your greeting at the door, a joy without end.
Your velvet ears perked up, a happy little sigh,
Always the first one there, beneath my loving eye.
Each day's gentle welcome, a comfort and a light,
Making every homecoming feel wonderfully bright.

Chorus

Oh, sweet Mia, my dear, ten years flew so fast,
A love like ours, a memory that's meant to last.
Though tears may fall, and shadows softly creep,
In my heart, your spirit, I will always keep.

Verse 2

When weary nights descended, and the day was finally through,
There was nothing I cherished more than cuddling with you.
Snuggled close beside me, a soft breath in the dark,
A tiny paw upon my arm, leaving its gentle mark.
Those quiet moments treasured, as we drifted off to rest,
Your presence was a comfort, truly the very best.
A quiet bond unspoken, understood and deep,
Secrets only shared when the world was fast asleep.

Chorus

Oh, sweet Mia, my dear, ten years flew so fast,
A love like ours, a memory that's meant to last.
Though tears may fall, and shadows softly creep,
In my heart, your spirit, I will always keep.

Verse 3

Mia's Gentle Greeting (continued)

Through sun-dappled mornings and quiet afternoons,
Your playful spirit shone, chasing away the glooms.
With curious bright eyes and a happy little bounce,
You filled every moment, making joy pronounce.
A loyal little shadow, following me near,
Whispering comfort, banishing all fear.
Each day was made brighter, simply by your grace,
Leaving paw prints of love, in every time and place.

Bridge

Mommy loves you, my darling, a truth that will remain,
I'll miss you every day, through sunshine and through rain.
When you crossed that threshold, and left this earthly space,
You took a piece of my heart, now with you in that place.

Instrumental - piano, string pad

Final Chorus

Oh, sweet Mia, my dear, ten years flew so fast,
A love like ours, a memory that's meant to last.
Though tears may fall, and shadows softly creep,
In my heart, your spirit, I will always keep.

Outro

Now running free and boundless, over the Rainbow Bridge,
Waiting there patiently, at the golden edge.
Resting peacefully, or chasing joyful light,
My precious Mia, shining ever so bright.

Outro - piano fade
