Verse 1

I remember the first time, a whirlwind of soft fur
Chasing every squirrel, a joyful, happy blur
Barking at the loud trucks, with a brave and mighty sound
With a favorite stick held high, a treasure you had found.

Chorus

Oh, Cocoa, my sweet girl, eleven years and more
You brought so much laughter, right to my front door
Your spirit still runs wild, a memory I hold
A story of pure love, more precious than gold.

Verse 2

The best part of my day, when I'd walk through the front door
Your wagging tail a greeting, wanting nothing more
My little 'hellhound', a name I used with glee
You always understood, how much you meant to me.

Chorus

Oh, Cocoa, my sweet girl, eleven years and more
You brought so much laughter, right to my front door
Your spirit still runs wild, a memory I hold
A story of pure love, more precious than gold.

Verse 3

Your favorite spot in the yard, a sunbeam on the green
Where you'd watch the world go by, a peaceful, happy scene

Just having you beside me, a comfort deep and true
Every moment with you, a blessing shining through.

Bridge

Chase all the squirrels now, go run free, no more pain
You know I meant it lovingly, through sunshine and through rain
My sweet 'hellhound', I'll see you again someday, I know
Until that day arrives, my boundless love will flow.

Instrumental - banjo solo, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Cocoa, my sweet girl, eleven years and more
You brought so much laughter, right to my front door
Your spirit still runs wild, a memory I hold
A story of pure love, more precious than gold.

Outro

Chasing phantom squirrels, sticks within your dream
Resting in your favorite spot, by a sunlit stream
You're running free forever, across the open land
My precious, wild Cocoa, a paw print in my hand.

Outro - acoustic guitar fade
