Shadow's Silent Promise

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

When morning light broke, the day would begin,
You'd find your warm spot, a watchful friend within.
From the soft bed, your brown eyes would patiently stay,
A loyal heart keeping watch through the day.
Just hear "truck ride," a knowing spark would ignite,
A happy grumble, a joyful, pure light.
A German Shepherd, so noble and true,
My faithful companion, I always miss you.

Chorus

Oh, Shadow, my girl, for five precious years,
You chased away all of my worries and fears.
A silent promise, a love deep and wide,
Forever you journey here by my side.

Verse 2

No matter how long the hours would stretch,
Your steadfast presence, a comfort you'd fetch.
Still in my bed, a solace so deep,
Your tail thumped a rhythm as I drifted to sleep.
I'd walk through the door, hear your happy low sound,
The best welcome home, the most loyal friend found.
Your soft velvet paw, a nudge gentle and kind,
A love so pure, one of a kind.

Chorus

Oh, Shadow, my girl, for five precious years,
You chased away all of my worries and fears.
A silent promise, a love deep and wide,
Forever you journey here by my side.

Bridge

Shadow's Silent Promise (continued)

The house feels so quiet, without your soft sigh,
No eager brown eyes, watching me pass by.
But your spirit still lingers, a whisper so deep,
Promises of reunion, my heart will always keep.
Thank you for loving me, with all of your might,
Until we reunite, in that peaceful light.

Instrumental - piano, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Shadow, my girl, for five precious years,
You chased away all of my worries and fears.
A silent promise, a love deep and wide,
Forever you journey here by my side.

Outro

You passed in the truck, waiting patiently there,
Now at the Bridge, without a worry or care.
Stretched by the river, bathed in soft sun,
You'll know of my coming, long before I run.

Outro - piano fade
