Pippy's Lullaby Heart

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, gentle strings

Verse 1

From the moment that you came into my life,
You chased away the worry and the strife.
Always on my lap, a precious little dream,
A love as gentle as a flowing stream.
When day was done, upon my bed you'd lie,
A happy sigh whenever I drew nigh.
Your little tail would wag, a joyful beat,
My homecoming always made so sweet.

Chorus

Oh, Pippy, my sweet girl, for twelve long years we shared,
A bond of love beyond compare.
Now a silence softly fills the air,
But your gentle spirit's everywhere.

Verse 2

Your presence on my lap, a comforting delight,
A game of gentle naps, bathed in soft light.
A quiet joy in every sleepy purr,
The warmest, softest, most loving blur.
Through simple moments, our connection grew,
My faithful friend, my heart felt safe with you.
Each day a gift, each memory so dear,
Wiping away every single tear.

Chorus

Oh, Pippy, my sweet girl, for twelve long years we shared,
A bond of love beyond compare.
Now a silence softly fills the air,
But your gentle spirit's everywhere.

Through every day, your gentle spirit shone,
A love so pure, a comfort all my own.
Beside me always, in sunlight or the rain,
Eased every worry, softened every pain.
The gentle tap of paws, a loving sound,
The sweetest company I'd ever found.
A tiny shadow, always close at hand,
The truest friend throughout the land.

Bridge

I want to tell you, love, you're always in my heart,
Right from the very start.
A special bond that time can't ever fade,
The most beautiful memory ever made.

Instrumental - piano, flute

Final Chorus

Oh, Pippy, my sweet girl, for twelve long years we shared,
A bond of love beyond compare.
Now a silence softly fills the air,
But your gentle spirit's everywhere.

Outro

Now an angel, watching from above,
Wrapped in endless, tender love.
Waiting for the day our paths will meet,
Running free on golden streets.
