Norman's Golden Stomp

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, ukulele

Verse 1

With a little snort and a wiggly tail
A tiny shadow, you never would fail
To find a comfy sock, a hidden treasure
Bringing us endless, playful pleasure.
From every corner, a stolen delight
You'd sneak them away, day and through night
Our clever pug, so full of grace
A happy spirit in this place.

Chorus

Oh, Norman, Norman, ten beautiful years
You chased away all of our fears
With a happy bark and a loving gaze
You filled our lives with sunlit days.
Our precious boy, a joy so true
Our hearts forever belong to you.

Verse 2

When stars would shine, and day was done
Your sleepy head, my little one
Would rest its weight upon my brow
A quiet comfort, then and now.
And with the morning's first light beam
You'd do your stomp, a waking dream
For belly rubs, your sweet demand
The best alarm across the land.

Chorus

Oh, Norman, Norman, ten beautiful years
You chased away all of our fears
With a happy bark and a loving gaze

You filled our lives with sunlit days.
Our precious boy, a joy so true
Our hearts forever belong to you.

Verse 3

You'd trick me out for treats, a clever small ruse,
Then eyes and noses from your toys, you'd amuse.
With hidden snacks beneath the bed, stashed away,
And a serious stare that would brighten my day.
Before bed, a sweet kiss, a soft, loving plea,
My everything, my shadow, always with me.
So goofy and precious, a joy ever new,
My whole heart, dear Norman, forever loves you.

Bridge

I love you so much, my precious pug, it's true
My whole heart, darling, belongs to you.
Go chase the squirrels, find every stray sock
I'll find you someday, beyond the clock.
I can't wait to hold you, snuggle you near
And give you endless kisses, my dear.

Ukulele Solo

Final Chorus

Oh, Norman, Norman, ten beautiful years
You chased away all of our fears
With a happy bark and a loving gaze
You filled our lives with sunlit days.
Our precious boy, a joy so true
Our hearts forever belong to you.

Outro

Now you're playing with new toys, so free and bright
And endless treats of teriyaki, day and night.
Running on soft clouds, with a happy stride
Forever in our hearts, our love will abide.

Outro - ukulele fade

Forever in our hearts
