Rose, Free to Run

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar, piano

Verse 1

In your warm bed, on your back, a gentle sigh,
My hand on your belly, beneath a loving sky.
A loyal Pitbull-Boxer, strong and so true,
From the moment I met you, my whole world felt new.
That first sweet hello, a memory I hold dear,
Chasing away shadows, banishing all fear.
With eyes full of kindness, a heart pure and bold,
A precious bond forming, a story to unfold.

Chorus

Oh, Rose, sweet Rose, five wonderful years we knew,
Every day a bright adventure, shining through.
Now you're dancing in the sunshine, wild and free,
A bright light forever blooming inside of me.

Verse 2

When the world was sleeping, and stars shone so bright,
Our 2:30 AM walks, a comforting sight.
Paws on the pavement, a quiet, happy stride,
With you by my side, I had nothing to hide.
Just silent companionship, under the moon's soft gleam,
Living out each moment, like a beautiful dream.
Your energy endless, your spirit so keen,
The best early morning friend I'd ever seen.

Chorus

Oh, Rose, sweet Rose, five wonderful years we knew,
Every day a bright adventure, shining through.
Now you're dancing in the sunshine, wild and free,
A bright light forever blooming inside of me.

Bridge

Rose, Free to Run (continued)

Chase all the squirrels now, darling, go run free,
No more pain can touch you, across the endless sea.
I'll find you again someday, beyond the fading light,
Forever in my heart, shining ever so bright.

Instrumental - piano, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Rose, sweet Rose, five wonderful years we knew,
Every day a bright adventure, shining through.
Now you're dancing in the sunshine, wild and free,
A bright light forever blooming inside of me.

Outro

Running free in endless grass, beneath the sun's warm glow,
On your back, feeling peace, watching the soft winds blow.
No more pain, just joy, a spirit light and kind,
Until we meet again, my Rose, peace you will find.

Outro - guitar fade
