Verse 1

I remember when you'd sleep right under my head
A furry, warm pillow, what a comfort you spread
Your wet nose would nudge me, a gentle wake-up call
And your loud snores would echo, filling up the hall
Those little torn up ears, so incredibly soft to the touch
Your puppy eyes would watch me, meaning oh so much
You found your forever, in this special place you grew
With unwavering loyalty, always strong and true.

Chorus

Oh, Severide, my loyal friend, ten years by my side
With a heart so gentle, where pure love would reside
You taught me what devotion truly means to be
A faithful companion, wild and always free.

Verse 2

So many joyful moments, too many to name
Like running to the kitchen, when you heard your name
Waiting for the hose, trying hard to catch the flow
A happy, silly spirit, putting on a show
Every single day, felt brand new with you near
Chasing away the shadows, calming every fear
A constant source of laughter, a comforting relief
Healing every sadness, banishing all grief.

Chorus

Oh, Severide, my loyal friend, ten years by my side

With a heart so gentle, where pure love would reside
You taught me what devotion truly means to be
A faithful companion, wild and always free.

Verse 3

The way you'd always follow, from room to room with grace
Just wanting to be near me, always finding your place
A happy sigh you'd offer, curled up there by my feet
Making every moment, impossibly more sweet
Your gentle paw would seek me, for comfort and for care
A silent, knowing spirit, always, always there
Ten years of pure devotion, a love beyond compare
In every single memory, a treasure we can share.

Bridge

Now with angel wings, in Jesus's embrace so sweet
Snuggle every person, everyone you meet
And watch over Sophia, like you always did before
Your loving spirit guarding, forevermore.

Instrumental

Harmonica solo, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Severide, my loyal friend, ten years by my side
With a heart so gentle, where pure love would reside
You taught me what devotion truly means to be
A faithful companion, wild and always free.

Outro

You've got your angel wings back, flying high above
Surrounded by pure comfort, and everlasting love
Resting peaceful now, where every joy is found
Your sweet, gentle spirit, forever all around.
